Jim Crow Lives in Dresden

The Flight of A Prodigal

FEWER money, more trouble and more money: this is how things end up for a person who tries to make the money-making life his business as a career or a hobby. Therefore I want to put on record that when the Deputy of Canada, leaving almost immediately after his last election, went to the money pits and left me hanging, I was not the only one who was hanging in the air. I was not the only one who was hanging in the air.

So I want to state on this page that I am not the only one who was hanging in the air. I am not the only one who was hanging in the air. I am not the only one who was hanging in the air.

It was the second morning we had breakfast in the kitchen. The Deputy of Canada, leaving almost immediately after his last election, went to the money pits and left me hanging. I was not the only one who was hanging in the air.

There was a moment when I was hanging in the air. I was not the only one who was hanging in the air. I am not the only one who was hanging in the air.

U-507 attacked a boat. Her first torpedo hit the Army transport Chatham, which sank half an hour later. Two hundred and fifty of the 362 on board died in the blast and in the ensuing black water. Before the ship could sink, high explosives had blown clear of Chatham's bow a dark, floating attack spot. That was too large for the Arcton, a small merchant ship on charter to the U. S. Maritime Commission. Three of her 28 crew were killed.

The rest of the survivors, except 18 men of the galle's crew who had to ... Continued on page 42

When the business was being taken by the most important the first step was to get the business out of the hands of the business. The business in question was not a simple one, but a complex one, and the business was in a state of deepening depression.

FOOD MUST GET THROUGH!

Massey-Harris farm machines help maintain a steady flow of food to Canadian tables

Feeding food to Canadian tables involves a constant struggle with the elements, a constant race against time.

It's a struggle to get seed down in time in spring, a struggle to control weeds, insects and plant diseases, to get crops harvested and shipped before damage done by rain or frost and to make sure that farm produce reaches its destination when needed.

Massey-Harris farm machines play an important part in keeping supplies of food down to Canadian tables. With the aid of modern machinery the farmer is able to get more work done in the short seasons when it has to be done. He is able to perform such operations more efficiently and thus to raise more and better crops.

The Massey-Harris industry which had its beginnings in Canada more than a century ago, has become an important part of our food supply system, and has also helped Canada to become food surplus to other parts of the world.

Friendly Phantoms

HARSH WINDS and whirling leaves . . . the first heavy frost strips the trees, gaunt and lifeless. But huddled against the trunks of sheltering evergreens are the owls, waiting for night. The short-eared owl is the only one which habitually hunts in the daytime. Watch for him, flying like a hawk over meadows and marshes.

Some owls are destructive, but those shown here are all beneficial to you. Their food is composed almost entirely of mice, insects, and other pests. For this reason they should never be molested.

Look around your own neighborhood at any time—you'll be amazed at the new world of nature to be found right on your own doorstep! Appreciation is the first step toward protection. Once you've discovered nature, you'll want to keep it unspoiled.
